Maxwell Chambers, 32 Maxwell Road, Level 2, Elgin Crawford Room, Singapore 069115

About this Lecture

Join Mr. Gary B. Born to examine the historical rise of international arbitration, review its current state and recent developments in the field, and conclude with a prognosis for the future of international arbitration. The lecture will discuss how and why international arbitration has been used in widely diverse cultures, regions and times, as well as the criticisms that have been made of some forms of arbitration in recent years. It will also explore the parallels between these criticisms and past criticisms of international law and adjudicatory mechanisms.

This Lecture will be held in a Hybrid Format (In-person and Zoom Webinar).
