"Counsel's Professional Ethics in the Presentation of Evidence"

Tuesday, 18 May 2010 | 5.30pm | Maxwell Chambers, Crawford Room (Level 3)

Sign up early to enjoy a 10% discount
(valid till 07 May 2010)

About the Seminar:

Culture shock - lawyers are not all the same.

A tribunal is required to conduct hearings in a manner that is fair and gives each party a full opportunity to present its case. This is challenging where parties' counsel come from a variety of different legal traditions as is often the case in international arbitrations. This talk will consider some of the challenges and seek discussion on how hearings can be held in a manner that addresses these challenges.

About the Speaker:

Chuan Thye heads the Dispute Resolution Practice Group in Singapore and serves as member of Baker & McKenzie's Steering Committees for Dispute Resolution in Asia Pacific and Global International Arbitration, and has an active insolvency and restructuring practice.

About the Chairman:

Currently a partner in Tan Rajah & Cheah, Chelva Rajah heads the firm's dispute resolution team. He is mainly engaged in arbitration/general litigation and in banking, construction, company, commercial, insolvency and contract related matters. He was the President of the Law Society of Singapore from 1990 to 1992. He was a Judicial Commissioner of High Court of Singapore from July 1995 to June 1997, and was appointed a Senior Counsel on 10 January 1998. He is on the panel of Accredited Arbitrators, Singapore International Arbitration Centre.
